News Around The Club

Our two fishing derbies in May were a great success. The Kids Fishing Derby on the fifteenth attracted 50 local kids who fished their hearts out for a few hours.

Thirty-five to forty trout were caught including the golden trout who was scooped from the shallows at the edge of the pond by three enterprising youths. They spotted the golden injured and ensnared in weeds and in fine Southern fashion noodled it from the water. Photos can be viewed here.

The Vocational Life Skills Fishing Derby was held on the following Tuesday. True to form, the Big Yellow Bus pulled into the parking lot shortly after 10 o'clock and disgorged a troop of eager students ready to wet hooks.

A number of fish were caught in the next two hours, each accompanied by excited cheers from around the pond. The student's day was capped by a visit from Nona's Ice Cream Truck which was heralded by much whoop'n and holler'n as it turned into the parking lot. Photos can be viewed here.

Pistol

A Steel Plate Match was held on Saturday, May 22nd. Little is known about the match apart from Paul Fig winning and then loosing the score sheet.

A Combat Pistol Match is scheduled for Saturday, June 19th starting at 2:00 PM. Bring lots of magazines and ammo!

Cowboy Shooting

The next Cowboy Shoot is planned for Sunday, June 13th at 9:00 am. As ever, spectators are welcome at these shoots and if interest is piqued you can try your hand at this fun branch of action shooting using borrowed equipment. These shoots have piqued interest in a few club members who have now gone down that slippery slope and joined the Gunnysackers, investing in period firearms and clothing.

Line Dance

A Line Dance was held in the parking lot on evening of Thursday, May 27th. The dance was organized by Rebecca Glancy, Maeve Glancy and Mary Kinahan; there were probably others but are unknown to your editor. The dance attracted around 30 members and non-members with a handful of spectators. Photos, courtesy of Rebecca Glancy can be viewed here.

Biden's 5 Favorite Gun Lies Rebutted

In a world of growing uncertainty, there's one thing you can count on: Nearly every time President Joe Biden (D) gets in front of a camera or audience, he's going to tell some falsehoods about guns, gun laws, and gun owners. Let's take a look at a handful of his favorites, and why they miss the mark when it comes to the truth. Full article.

The International Harvester M1 Garand: A New Rifle for the Nuclear Age

At the conclusion of World War II, the M1 Garand had garnered a well-deserved reputation as the best standardized service rifle of the conflict. Large numbers of Garands were in inventory after Victory over Japan Day, and it was assumed they were sufficient to meet the needs of our armed forces for the foreseeable future. Five years later, though, this illusion was shattered when hostilities commenced on the Korean Peninsula. Full article.
